Three Notable Books

Wee Macgreegor

By J. J. BELL

Mr. Bell has admirably told the humorous and realistic story of a little Scottish boy, Wee Macgreegor, of his father, who slyly pets and spoils him, and of his mother who adores and disciplines him—three unforgettable people who live actually before us in the author's exquisite and sincere work.

In this story of little Macgreegor, and in his relations to his humble but lovable family and friends, there is a suggestion of "A Window in Thrums," which made J. M. Barrie's reputation; and, on the other hand, its humor and fun are as entertaining as "Helen's Babies." It is a unique contribution to modern literature, and comes as a real surprise to the Scotch, English, and American public. The book has taken England by storm in spite of its Scotch dialect.

16mo, ornamented cloth, $1.00

The Bishop

By CYRUS TOWNSEND
BRADY

Stories of a militant, married, bishop, whose work among the rough-and-ready men of Western camps, forts, and villages results in his sharing in many incidents of frontier life—comedy, tragedy, always drama. He is a distinct American product, planted by the Church and grown in Western soil. His life is full of activity of the best kind, and he is a man you have to respect. He has many experiences, some amusing, some thrilling, and these stories afford excellent pictures of life in the roughest parts of the West.

Illustrated by W. T. Smedley,
E. M. Ashe, and Others

Ornamented cloth, $1.50

The Triumph of Life

By WILLIAM FARQUHAR
PAYSON

Author of "John Vyal"

A story of modern American life. It tells of the struggles of a young writer, Enoch Lloyd, with what seems to be financial success at the price of moral failure. There are two women in the case, the two opposing influences. One is Céleste Moreau, the worldly, mocking daughter of a French hotel-keeper in New York; the other is Marion Lee, daughter of Lloyd's publisher. His struggle between these two influences—the one demoralizing, the other ennobling—is worked out through many intricacies of plot, and only after a series of intense dramatic situations, such as are found in stories of vivid strength, does he emerge triumphant from the final crisis.

Ornamented cloth, $1.50

HARPER & BROTHERS, Franklin Square, New York

ONE of the many attractions to the trade in the new edition of "Children of Destiny," by Molly Elliot Seawell, is the wonderful illustrations by A. B. Wenzell, and there are six in all, similar to the above. The text is Miss Seawell's most brilliant and serious work. A novel of the hot-blooded sons and daughters of the South, full of fire and passion of their romantic region. 12mo, $1.50.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY, PUBLISHERS

By the Author of the "LEAVENWORTH CASE"

The FILIGREE BALL

Here is a new, absorbing, fascinating detective story by ANNA KATHERINE GREEN, "The Filigree Ball" and said to be her very best. Live booksellers are buying it freely.

THE HOUSE ON THE HUDSON

By Frances Powell. $1.50.

A very remarkable first novel, by a new writer who tells a strikingly unconventional story. From the moment Miss Athena Derohan arrives at Highgrove Hall, young, beautiful and unprotected, the chivalrous interest of the reader is awakened, only to be still more potently stimulated by the mysterious developments which follow. The whole romance, blending the characteristics of a detective story with those of a passionate and forceful drama of love, is one of peculiar originality.

A GIRL OF IDEAS

By Annie Flint. $1.50.

This very unusual novel details the business career of a girl whose imagination is her only capital. Publisher after publisher rejects Elinor Day's manuscripts. Her money runs low. Refusing to accept defeat, she opens an office for the selling of ideas to established writers. The scheme meets with instant success. She becomes a distinguished author—by proxy. Many complex situations develop, the solution of the most embarrassing of which constitutes the climax of the book.

THE JULIA MARLOWE EDITION OF THE CAVALIER

By George W. Cable. Illustrated with many photographs of scenes in the stage version of the novel, reproduced in color. $1.50.

This edition of Mr. Cable's celebrated novel is rendered especially interesting and beautiful by the charming photographs picturing Miss Marlowe in the role of Charlotte Oliver, the heroine of both novel and play.

LITERARY LANDMARKS OF OXFORD

By Laurence Hutton. Exquisitely illustrated by Herbert Railton. 12mo, $1.20 net (postage 12 cents).

A worthy companion to the entertaining and most useful books by Mr. Hutton which have made the "Literary Landmarks" title a recognized voucher, like Augustus Hare's "Walks." The rooms of Oxford Colleges are crowded with literary associations which he has so grouped, in sections following the alphabetical order of the colleges, that the Oxford visitor may make his pilgrimage with the utmost convenience.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HENRY T. COATES & Co. will shortly publish "The Tu-Tze's Tower," a story of the uprising against the foreigners in China in 1900, by Miss Louise Betts Edwards, a well-known Philadelphia newspaper woman and contributor to magazines.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will bring out directly Seumas MacManus's new book, "A Lad o' the O'Fries," a pastoral and idyllic novel of Irish "cottager" life. They will publish on the 6th of April a new novel by David Graham Phillips, entitled "Golden Fleece," a picture of American high life, the central figure of which is an impecunious British Earl who has come to America in search of a rich wife. The volume will have sixteen illustrations by Harrison Fisher.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS announce a novel by Alice Duer Miller, entitled "The Modern Obstacle," which is said to be a story of more or less problematical nature, showing that the most formidable obstruction to the course of true love from a socialistic point of view is the lack of money. They will bring out at once the sixth volume of the new edition of Byron's Poetical Works, which will contain the fragment of the xviiith Canto of "Don Juan" that has never been published. In May they will bring out Thomas Nelson Page's new novel, "Gordon Keith," the first he has written since his "Red Rock" appeared. The scene of the new story includes New York City and Virginia, and the period extends from the close of the war to within ten years ago. The hero is a Southerner and the heroine a New York girl.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have just published a readable and attractive volume entitled "Winter India," by Eliza Ruhamah Scidmore, a book that will appeal to the traveller as well as to those who are interested in India, written by one whose "Jinrikisha Days in Japan," and her works on Java and China are standards on their respective countries; "A Comedy of Conscience," by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, who evolves a very clever story out of the experiences of a spinster who unwittingly, as she is robbed of a purse, becomes owner of a valuable diamond ring, and is troubled with the problem of what she should do with it; also, "When Patty Went to College," by Jean Webster, describing the humorous experiences of a college girl with a penchant for getting into scrapes and possessed of unlimited resources in getting out of them.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. publish to-day "The Mannerings," a new story of country life, by Miss Alice Brown, author of "Margaret Warrener," etc., the plot of which involves a double love story which is said to be ingenious; "The Legatee," by Alice Prescott Smith, a story of life in a Wisconsin lumber town, its labor antagonisms, and the catastrophe of a forest fire; "Young People's History of Holland," by Dr. William Elliot Griffis, author of "Brave Little Holland," etc.; "The Enjoyment of Art," by Carleton Noyes, whose purpose is to set forth the nature and the meaning of a work of art; the second and concluding volume of "Correspondence of the Colonial Government of Rhode Island, 1723-1775," edited by Gertrude S. Kimball; also, revised editions of "Charles Eliot, Landscape Architect," and of Professor James M. Hopkin's "Great Epochs in Art History."

The volume contains a full history of the gift, the incorporation of the Institution, names of trustees, by-laws, etc.
- Chadwick, J. White. William Ellery Channing, minister of religion. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 17+463 p. por. D. cl., **$1.75 net.
 The treatment of Mr. Chadwick's "Channing" is similar to his biography of "Theodore Parker," and will engage the attention of readers and students of the anti-slavery conflict, for Channing's relation to this subject abounded in dramatic interest and had an individuality which is carefully brought out. Of more immediate importance is his prophetic attitude with reference to the liberality of the sects and the problems of sociology and philanthropy. The main intention is to exhibit Channing's vital criticism of our present tendencies and his encouragement to our higher aspirations.
- Cheney, C. E.; (Bp.) A king of France unnamed in history. Chic., Chicago Literary Club, 1902. c. 86 p. facsim., 16°, (Chicago Literary Club papers.) (privately printed for club members.)

 Prepared in response to the request of a number of physicians to give in a series of lectures a résumé of those subjects in physical or general chemistry which are of importance in medicine. Dr. Cohen is professor of general and inorganic chemistry in the University of Utrecht.
- Cook, W. Wallace. His friend the enemy; il. by F. Lowenheim. N. Y., G: W. Dillingham Co., 1903 [Mr.] c. 4-304 p. D. cl., †$1.50.
 A stirring tale of the northwest wherein the old, old story becomes entangled in the plots and counterplots of a county seat contest.
- Cooke, G. Willis, ed. The poets of transcendentalism: an anthology; with introductory essay and biographical notes. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 16+341 p. O. cl., **$2 net.
 Mr. Cooke has collected, for the first time, the best verse produced during the most extraordinary period of American literature—that which saw the rise of the transcendental movement. It was a movement of inquiry and revolt, of the assertion of the worth and dignity of man. It included figures like Emerson, Thoreau, Alcott, Margaret Fuller, Ellery Channing, Jones Very, Higginson, Christopher Cranch, and a host of lesser known writers. The verse of the forty-two authors represented in this volume is distinctively American.

Dr. Freeman is emphatically in favor of substitutes for the saloon which shall furnish men the opportunities for pleasure, but not for sin, which are to be found in saloons. In his book, Dr. Freeman describes the great Hollywood Inn of Yonkers, of which he is the head. This workman's club has been a great success, and, Dr. Freeman believes, embodies the solution of the temperance question.

- Harben, Will N. The substitute. N. Y., Harper, 1903. c. 4+330 p. D. cl., †$1.50.
A story that deals with the fortunes of George Buckley, an inhabitant of Northern Georgia. Although of humble birth, he has a natively fine character. He is adopted by an old man who desires to atone for a past sin by so educating and training George that he may become his moral substitute in the eyes of Providence. Hence the name. Finally, interest centres in a love affair that has a noteworthy effect on the young man's character, and the end is a happy one.

Harrison, Eliz., and Woodson, Belle. The kindergarten building gifts. St. Louis, Mo., Sigma Publishing Co., [1903.] c. 226 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

An explanation and study of eight of Froebel's play-gifts.

Herrick, H: Martyn. The Kingdom of God in the writings of the Fathers. Chic., University of Chicago Press, 1903. c. 3+93-117 p. O. (University of Chicago historical and linguistic studies in literature related to the New Testament; second ser., Linguistic and exegetical ser., v. 1.) pap., *50 c. net.

This treatise is based upon the Christian writings of the patristic age, from Clement of Rome to John of Damascus. These writings have been studied exegetically and historically in the standard English translations, with reference, when necessary, to the original text.

Hatfield, Marcus Patten. A compend of diseases of children; especially adapted for the use of medical students. 3d ed., rev. Phil., P. Blakiston's Son & Co., 1903. c. 8+9-241 p. 16°, (Quiz-compends, no. 14.) cl., 80 c.

Helps, Sir Arthur. Thoughts in the cloister and the crowd and Companions of my solitude; ed. by A. R. Waller. [N. Y., Tennant & Ward,] 1902, [1903.] 7+309 p. por. S. (Cloister lib.; ed. by A. R. Waller.) cl., $1.

Henderson, C: Hanford. John Percyfield the anatomy of cheerfulness. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 5+382 p. D. cl., *$1.50.

Presents a love story in a setting of discursive prose. The scene is laid partly in Switzerland and partly in America. At a chateau upon the shore of Lake Geneva the reader meets a group of interesting and attractive people, and his sympathies are presently engaged by an idyllic love affair. The chief interest of the book, however, lies deeper.

Herbert, G: The temple and a priest to the temple; ed. by A. R. Waller. [N. Y., Tennant & Ward,] 1902, [1903.] 7+309 p. por. S. (Cloister lib.; ed. by A. R. Waller.) cl., $1.

Hope, Graham. The triumph of Count Ostermann. N. Y., H: Holt & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 8+333 p. D. cl., *$1.50.

The love story of Peter the Great's German prime minister. In the opening chapter a vivid picture is given of the semi-barbarous people that the great Czar was to mold into one of the leading nations of the earth. Peter, dissolute and violent, but glorified by his will and noble purpose, is strongly drawn. Along with Ostermann's experiences with his patrician wife is sketched his brave struggle to continue Peter's work in spite of the weaker rulers that followed.

Hulbert, Archer Butler. Braddock's road and Three relative papers. Cleveland, O., Arthur H. Clark Co., 1903. c. 9-213 p. il. D. (Historic highways of America, v. 4.) cl., *$2.50 net.

This volume carries on the story of the Old French War from Washington's capitulation at Fort Necessity through the famous campaign of Braddock in 1755. The hewing of Braddock's Road from the Potomac to the Monongahela was the first great step of material progress made in the West. The story of the campaign as retold from this standpoint is of appealing interest; but of greater interest is the story of the half-century succeeding, in which Braddock's Road was the only highway into the upper Ohio valley—the most important thoroughfare into the West.

Ingalls, J: Ja. A collection of the writings, essays, addresses, and orations. Kansas City, Mo., Hudson-Kimberly Publishing Co., 1903. c. 536 p. incl. facsim., por. 8°, cl., $2.50; buckram, $3; hf. mor., $3.25; mor., $4.50.

Keller, Helen. The story of my life, by Helen Keller; with her letters, (1887-1901,) and a supplementary account of her education; including passages from the reports and letters of her teacher, Anne Mansfield Sullivan, by J: Albert Macy. N. Y., Doubleday, Page & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 1902, 1903. 10+441 p. pors. D. cl., **$1.50 net.

"This book is in three parts. The first two, Miss Keller's story and the extracts from her letters, form a complete account of her life as far as she can give it. Much of her education she cannot explain herself, and since a knowledge of that is necessary to an understanding of what she has written, it was thought best to supplement her autobiography with the reports and letters of her teacher, Miss Anne Mansfield Sullivan."—Editor's Preface. Miss Keller was born in 1880 in northern Alabama, and became deaf and blind through scarlet fever. Her education is one of the marvels of modern science.

Kieffer, Rev. H: Martyn, tr. First Reformed Church of Easton, Pa.: some of the first settlers of "The Forks of the Delaware" and their descendants: being a tr. from the German of the record books of the First Reformed Church of Easton, Pa., from 1760 to 1852; tr. and published by the Rev. Kinkaid, Mary Holland. Walda: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1903. [Mr.] c. 4+312 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

A love story placed in a religious community where love and marriage are tacitly discouraged. Into this community comes Stephen, a man of the world. He falls in love with Walda Kellar, who has been singled out as the coming prophetess of the community. All Walda's education and training have opposed her to love and marriage, and so when Stephen declares himself she finds she must struggle between love and her religious belief.

Kirk, E: The cupola furnace: a practical treatise on the construction and management of foundry cupolas. New ed., rev. and enl. Phil., H: Carey Baird & Co., 1903. [F17.] c. 24+466 p. il. 8°, cl., $3.50.

La Tour, H: Boy de. The induction motor; its theory and design, set forth by a practical method of calculation; from the French by C. O. Mailloux. N. Y., McGraw Publishing Co., [1903.] c. 27+200 p. diagrams, O. cl., $2.50.

Intended to elucidate the theory of the induction motor, and to facilitate its design by a practical method of calculation which is at once simple, ingenious and effective. The object of the book is stated by the author in his preface as follows: "We have wished to come to the assistance of those who have not had occasion to take special courses, and who, owing to the lack of sufficiently extended knowledge, have not derived very much profit from all that has appeared in the scientific papers. We have, therefore, endeavored to give a complete study of the induction motor, and to explain, at length, all the peculiarities of its operation, while remaining within the bounds of elementary mathematics."

Laughlin, J. Laurence. The principles of money. N. Y., Scribner, 1903. [Mr.] c. 14+550 p. O. cl., **$3 net.

The first volume of a series which aims to cover the main field of money. The chief topics of this work are: The functions of money; Coinage; The standard question; Credit; Deposit currency; Tables of prices; History and literature of the quantity theory of money; A critical examination of the quantity theory; The true theory of prices; Prices and the international movement of specie; Amount of money needed by a country; Gresham's law; Origin and history of legal tender in Great Britain and the United States; Economic effects of legal-tender enactments; Laws of token money.

Lawrence, W., D.D. Phillips Brooks: a study. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 6+51 p. D. cl., **50 c. net.

This little volume brings out the great preacher's more permanent contributions to the religious thought and life of the time. It is a sketch of his theological position, of his attitude towards the intellectual and spiritual movements of the nineteenth century, of the leading features of his own thought, and of his relations to the church. It was delivered as an address from the pulpit of Phillips Brooks in Trinity Church, Boston, January 23, 1903, at a commemorative service, on the tenth anniversary of his death.

Lespinasse, Julie Eleonore de. Letters of Mlle. de Lespinasse; with notes on her life and character by D'Alembert, Marmon- tel, De Guibert, etc., and an introd. by C. A. Sainte-Beuve; tr. by Katharine Prescott Wormeley. [4th ed.] Bost., Hardy, Pratt & Co., 1903. c. 1901. 3+342 p. D. cl., *$1.25 net.

The writer of these letters Mlle. Julie de Lespinasse, has been acknowledged by Mrs. Ward as the original of the leading character in "Lady Rose's Daughter"—Julie Le Breton. The parallel between their lives is unmistakable. Julie de Lespinasse lived in France in the 18th century, and was a protégée of the celebrated Mme. Du Deffand, and the natural daughter of a woman of rank. She loved and was loved by two different men, finally dying broken hearted. Her letters are the history of her life, told with much frankness and feeling.

Nason, Frank Lewis. The blue goose. N. Y., McClure, Phillips & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 7+295 p. D. cl., †$1.50.

The life of the miner, with its hours of wild living above ground, the dominating influence of the greed for gold, and the reckless gambling spirit that is its very basis offers grateful material to the teller of stories. Mr. Nason has taken full advantage of the opportunity and of his intimate knowledge. He has written a tale of cunning and villainy thwarted by dogged honesty, in which a mine superintendent is in conflict with his thieving and vicious employees.

New York. A digest of New York statutes and reports from Jan. 1, 1902, to Jan. 1, 1903; with tables of statutes, constitutional provisions, rules of court, and cases cited: being a continuation of Abbott's N. - Taylor, Mary Imlay. The rebellion of the Princess. N. Y., McClure, Phillips & Co., 1903. [Mr.] c. 7+326 p. D. cl., †$1.50.
A novel. The scene is laid in Moscow at the time of the election of Peter the Great, when the intrigues of rival parties overturned the existing government, and the meeting of the National Guard made the city the scene of a hideous riot. It resembles in some points Miss Taylor's first story, "On the red staircase," especially in the date, the principal scenes and the fact that the hero is a French nobleman.

Woodburn, Ja. Albert. Political parties and party problems in the United States: a sketch of American party history and of the development and operations of party machinery; with a consideration of certain party problems in their relations to political morality. N. Y., Putnam, 1903. [Mr.] c. 9+314 p. O. cl., **$2 net.

The book is a study of parties in America—of party history, party machinery, party morality, party problems. Party has always been the agency by which America has been governed, and therefore party politics is pre-eminent a subject that demands the constant attention of intelligent and patriotic citizens. The book is published in the hope that it may aid in promoting, in school and home, the study of American politics.—Preface.

KEEPING STOCK CLEAN.

THE soft-coal nuisance with which storekeepers have been plagued in regions that had hitherto burned only anthracite coal failed after all to teach booksellers a needed lesson—namely, to guard against soiled goods by carefully wrapping them up. While it is not practicable nor even desirable to wrap up every book kept in stock, it is both practicable and desirable to wrap up the "leaders" and the books that move rapidly. These are ordinarily stacked in pyramids up near the entrance of the store, to make a show. In some cases storekeepers are even paid a bonus by publishers to advertise their stock in this manner. But whatever small pecuniary gain they may enjoy in this way they lose in reputation for keeping clean, fresh stock. Let the publisher supply the book with ever so stout a wrapper, the edges will be exposed to the soot that drifts in through doors and windows, and to the inevitable dust that rises from sweeping and that finds its way up under the cloth, though it be the intention of the sweeper to fit it as snugly as possible over the books. Then, on rainy days, even the most careful customers are likely to brush against the exposed books with their damp clothing, helping to make the books untidy. All this might be avoided if each book were enveloped in a close-fitting wrapper, leaving one or two copies exposed for inspection.

"But," it may be objected, "we are in danger of losing a valuable advertising feature." Not necessarily. The wrapped-up pile may be ornamented with posters advertising the books so protected—by posters, that, if the facts were known, are now in many cases hidden away where they do little good either to the publisher who has been at great expense in getting them up, or to the bookseller whom they are intended to benefit. Besides, as we said at the start, any slight loss that may be incurred by covering up such books will be amply compensated by the satisfaction given to a fastidious customer who may possibly rather do without a book than to have a soiled one. Indeed, one serious objection many bookbuyers have to lending libraries, such as the Booklovers and Tabard Inn, is that, while the copies may not be so worn as those in use in the ordinary free or circulating library, the books are not absolutely fresh. Whenever possible, books should be completely wrapped, whether kept in the store or in the stock room. The handing out of absolutely fresh books may easily become as strong an advertising feature for a bookseller, as the handing out of bright new coins and crisp new bills was made in certain cities during the past holiday season by a number of booksellers and other merchants.

The cost of wrapping is an almost insignificant item, as the paper need not be of a high quality nor heavy in weight, and the labor may be performed by any intelligent boy at odd times during the day.

THE coalition of the firm of Harper & Brothers and R. H. Russell, noted elsewhere in this issue, has been variously construed by the daily press, and several writers have indulged in wild prophecies foreshadowing the extinction of the small publisher, and the final "round-up" of the remaining large publishing houses in a combination similar—as one writer thinks—to the so-called Steel Trust. In these days of combinations such an idea would naturally occur to a writer of "snap" opinions; we doubt, however, whether the publishing of the future will be done on the department-store plan, or on the lines of the pork-packing or steel industries. Natural or manufactured products can be "cornered," but what enterprising promoter, or band of promoters, could be found enterprising enough, or foolhardy enough, to attempt to bring the products of the mind of a nation together under one publisher's roof for generations to come! There are some, we know, who think that the hope of the future of the publishing business lies in specialization rather than in centralization. This might bring together related branches and strengthen by combination of experience and capital the firms that may be already in existence. But so long as Longfellow, Hawthornes, Bancrofts and other geniuses still remain to be born and discovered, and paper will be made and printing presses built, the small publisher will continue to have his day and the advent of a publishing trust will be at least delayed.

WOOD PULP CASE DECIDED.

THE Board of Classification of the United States General Appraisers, on March 23, decided the famous Canadian wood pulp case, which has been pending before it for some months past. The case has attracted a great deal of attention, not only from manufacturers of both pulp and paper, but from newspaper publishers as well, and the general question at issue has also been discussed widely by forestry experts. Two distinct questions were presented to the Board. One related to pulp imported from Quebec and the other to pulp from Ontario. In each case the pulp is made from wood cut on what are called "crown lands." A tariff provides that licensees shall pay a tax of sixty-five cents per cord for pulp wood cut, but a rebate is allowed of twenty-five cents per cord on "timber manufactured into paper pulp in the Dominion of Canada."

The United States customs authorities levied an additional duty equal to the twenty-five cents rebate allowed. The Board of Classification now overrules the protest relating to the pulp from Quebec, and the action of the collector in that particular is sustained.

Judge Somerville, of Alabama, writes the opinion of the Board. He says: "An export duty is a duty or tax imposed upon merchandise on its exportation from any country, and this is necessarily true in whatever form or disguise this tax may be concealed."

John G. Milburn, of Buffalo, was the counsel for the importers, and Albert H. Washburn for the government.

It is expected that the case will be appealed to the federal courts.

R. H. RUSSELL AND HARPER &amp; BROTHERS COMBINE.

R. H. RUSSELL has formed a combination with Harper & Brothers by which his whole business will be transferred to them. This move has been made by Mr. Russell for the purpose of facilitating and enlarging the conduct of his business; the particular line of books which he has published will be continued under his own imprint as heretofore, with the added facilities of advertising and distributing afforded by the house of Harper & Brothers.

A BOGUS DIRECTORY SWINDLE.

THE New York Herald for March 23 describes a clever swindle by means of which a number of business men in the United States, and, presumably, in other countries, have been fleeced to an amount estimated to be above a million dollars. Briefly, according to the Herald, "the plan, which is known to the police of every city as 'the bogus directory swindle,' consists in obtaining the official signature of a bank, a corporation or a business man to an apparently innocent question and then have it reappear in the hands of a third person as a contract for advertising space in a hitherto unheard of business directory. These directories are always shown, and it is here that the Association of Business Directory Men are interested.

"They allege that the directory shown is only one of their publications, with substituted binding, title-page and one page containing the advertisement. Never one of these leaves the possession of the band, and an attempt to receive it only results in the victim getting deeper in the mire of swindle. So sharply has the scheme been worked that there are records where the same firm has been victimized five times within a year and a half.

"Out of New Britain, Conn., it is asserted, $10,000 was taken in one visit, extending over a period of several months. Portland, Me., contributed $5000, and from Waterbury and Ansonia, Conn., Boston and other Massachusetts cities, and the cities of Ohio and Pennsylvania as much more each was taken.

"By the arrest of Arthur P. Hubbard in Washington, D. C., a month ago, it was learned that he had collected $2500 alone by the plan since January 1. The arrest of one Finnimore, who is known to the police of New York City, in North Attleboro, Mass., disclosed a similar case for him, and other arrests throughout the East only confirmed the magnitude of the operations. These men, it is said, do not fear conviction. Backed by the money of one of the syndicates, they will face their trial without fear.

"According to a member of one of the principal bands who has lately fallen out with his chiefs, the business of directory swindling is in the hands of about four different organizations in this country. All produce the same results, with slightly different methods. The one with which he is familiar is said to be conducted by two brothers and a third man as a partner. He is an expert printer.

"These men have operated under many names—the Webster Press, Sandford & Co., the Chatham Press, Mason, Robbins & Co.; the Central Book Company of Philadelphia, Winslow & Co., of Chicago, and a host of other titles. Their offices for the most part have been in New York—sometimes in Fifth Avenue, sometimes in East and West Fourteenth Street, and of late in lower Broadway, where the landlords are not particular about references. The 'offices' are never more than one room, retained only until, as they express it, 'a firm is closed out.' Their printing offices and book bindery were until recently in East Fourteenth Street. They have been moved lately to Jersey City.

"They have not worked in New York for two years. Inspector McClusky, at that time Captain McClusky, in charge of the Detective Bureau, placed Detective Flahy on their case, with the result that there was an arrest and suspension of operations in the city."

FORTY BIBLES A MINUTE.

THE Caxton Magazine prints the following extraordinary facts concerning the capacity of the Oxford University Press: "The Bible publications of the Oxford University Press have been issued for three hundred years and can be published in 150 languages and dialects. Every year fully 600 tons of paper are used for this purpose alone. Orders for 100,000 Bibles are quite common, and the supply of printed sheets is so great that an order for half a million copies can be readily filled. On an average, from 30 to 40 Bibles are furnished every minute, and this number can readily be doubled. There are no fewer than 110 different editions of the Oxford Bibles in English, varying from the magnificent folio edition for pulpit use to the "brilliant" Bible, the smallest edition of the Scriptures in the world. Of the Revised Version, fourteen editions are published. More than a million copies of the revised New Testament has been ordered before the day of publication in May of 1881, and it is claimed that the workmen of the establishment refused a bribe of some four thousand pounds to furnish a copy of the book before the day of issue. At the banquet held at the four hundredth celebration of the beginning of the art of printing in England by Caxton, Gladstone took into his hands and exhibited to those present a copy of the Bible which had been printed and bound entirely since midnight of the preceding day. The preparation of the "India paper" used by the Oxford University Press is a business secret of great value. Although frequently imitated it has never been equalled. The largest folio Bible printed in Oxford measures 19 by 12 inches, and no erratum has as yet been found in it. The "Brilliant Text Bible" measures  $3\frac{3}{4}$  by  $2\frac{1}{8}$  inches and is  $\frac{3}{4}$  of an inch thick, and bound weighs less than three ounces. In the seventeen years since the Press has been under the management of Horace Hart, the number of employees has increased from 278 to 650."

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

REPRINTS OF ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA BARRED IN CANADA.

A. & C. BLACK, the publishers of the "Encyclopædia Britannica," have secured a perpetual injunction restraining the Imperial Book Company from importing into Canada any copies of the encyclopedia or any part of it printed in any country outside of the British Dominions. The judgment orders the defendants to deliver up any copies so printed now in their possession, to pay the cost of the action, and, if the plaintiffs require it, render an accounting of their profits.

COMMUNICATIONS.

WHAT IS A CHAP BOOK?

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: I have just seen Mr. John Svensk's remarks on my article on this subject. My sole object in writing it was to be of some service—not to display any "pride of accuracy" for that has been "knocked out" of me long ago if ever I had any; nor was it the outcome of the "disease known as writing to the Times." If the point I made therein is of no use to Mr. Svensk I am not without hope that it may be helpful to those who are aiming at accuracy. CHARLES WELSH.

OBITUARY NOTES.

CONRAD JAMES WHITE for three years in the book department of A. M. Rothschild & Co., of Chicago, and for a year buyer for the book department of "The Emporium" of San Francisco, Cal., died, February 9, at Peru, Ind., aged twenty-six.

THE REV. GEORGE LEWIS PRENTISS died March 19 in New York City aged eighty-seven, having been born in Gorham, Me., May 12, 1816. Dr. Prentiss wrote "The Problem of the Veto Power," "Our National Bane," "The Agreement Between Union Seminary and the General Assembly," "Fifty Years of Union Seminary," and "Memoirs of Sargent S. Prentiss and Harvey Skinner, D.D."

THE VERY REV. FREDERIC WILLIAM FARRAR, Dean of Canterbury since 1895, died March 22. Dr. Farrar was born in Bombay, where his father was chaplain, August 7, 1831. After leaving Cambridge he became assistant master at Harrow, and afterwards head master of Marlborough College. In 1876 he became Canon of Westminster, and nineteen years later he became Dean of Canterbury. He was active as a writer and produced upwards of fifty works the best-known among which are his "Life of Christ," "Life of St. Paul," and "Early Days of Christianity," which have had a wide and steady sale. Dr. Farrar came to this country in 1885, remaining from August to December, travelling and lecturing.

CHARLES GODFREY LELAND, died, March 20, in Florence, Italy, where he had resided since 1886. Mr. Leland was born in Philadelphia, August 15, 1824. He was graduated from Princeton in 1846, and afterward studied at Heidelberg, Munich and Paris. He was in Paris in 1848 and took part in the revolutionary uprising in that year. He returned to Philadelphia in 1848 and was admitted to the bar, but gave up the profession to devote himself to literary pursuits. He was at one time editor of the New York Illustrated News and of Vanity Fair, and was connected with the editorial staff of Frank Leslie's publications and of the New York Times. In 1861 he established the Continental Magazine in Boston. Two years later he enlisted in Biddle's Artillery Company, an "emergency regiment," and went to Gettysburg with Smith's Reserves. In 1866 he became editor of the Philadelphia Press, which he left in 1869 to go to London where he lived until 1880. In that year he returned to Philadelphia, to devote himself to the introduction of industrial education in the public schools. When the Civil War broke out, Leland published, through his old friend, Frederick Leyboldt, then a bookseller in Philadelphia, a political satire entitled "The Book of Copperheads," which had an enormous sale. Mr. Leyboldt also published, in sumptuous style, Mr. Leland's "Legends of the Birds." While connected with the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, in 1858, he wrote for Graham's Magazine "Hans Breitmann's Barty," which did not attract much attention until years afterward when he gathered it and its successor together, and 50,000 copies sold in one year. Mr. Leland made an intimate study of the gypsies and the North American Indians on which subjects he became a recognized authority. He was one of the originators of the Folk-Lore Congress at Paris in 1889, and discovered the Shelta (Celtic tinker) language. Among his books are "Meister Karl's Sketch Book," "Pictures of Travel," and other translations from Heinrich Heine; "Sunshine in Thought," "The Music-Lesson of Confucius," "Johnnykin and the Goblins," "Pidgin-English Sing Song," "France, Alsace and Lorraine," "Gypsies," "Egyptian Sketch Book," "Life of Lincoln," "Gypsy Sorcery," "Legends of Florence," "Songs of the Sea and Lays of the Land," "Etruscan Roman Remains," "The Poetry and Mystery of Dreams," "Gaudeamus," "English Gypsy Songs," in which he was aided by Professor E. H. Palmer and Miss Janet Tuckey; "The Algonquin Legends of New England," "Kuloscaph, the Master," and a series of "Art Work Manuals."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE late Dr. Birbeck Hill had happily completed before his untimely death his edition of Johnson's "Lives of the Poets."

RUDYARD KIPLING has written two stories—"The Bonds of Discipline" and "Their Lawful Occasions"—for Collier's Weekly which has also made arrangements for the exclusive right to publish Mr. Kipling's poems on political and social topics.

ADOLF WILBRANDT, a German novelist of some reputation has discovered a new light in German literature in a German artisan named Hugo Bertsch, who lives in Williamsburg in Greater New York. The Cottas of Stuttgart, on Mr. Wilbrandt's recommendation, will publish a novel by Bertsch entitled "Brother and Sister" ("Die Geschwister,") which describes the career and misfortunes of an American workingman who has been disabled by an accident and who struggles courageously against poverty. The work, according to Wilbrandt, in its portrayal of character, shows some of the strength of the Russian novelist, Gorki.

MISS MARTHA W. AUSTIN, the author of "Veronica," is a Southern woman, the daughter of the Commander of Austin's Battalion of Sharpshooters in the Confederate Army. Her grandfather, Dr. Austin of New Orleans, was one of the most noted and beloved physicians in the South. Although Miss Austin has lived much of her life in New Orleans and at a country place on the Gulf Coast, she has travelled considerably. She has studied at Sophie Newcomb College (Tulane University, New Orleans) and at Radcliffe, and all her life her library has been her playground. Her writing before this novel, "Veronica," took the form of charming descriptions of nature and essays, and of stray bits of dainty fanciful verse.

THE truth concerning the authorship of "An Englishwoman's Love Letters," according to a report from London, is about to be revealed. The preface to the new English edition, shortly to be brought out, will be signed with the name of the alleged real author, Ester Marion Foley, though, it is explained, the preface discloses very little more about the tragedy which the last letters obscure. "A trace of the tragedy, however," according to our informant, "may perhaps be found in the 'Englishwoman's' story of her kinswoman, Doris Foley, playfellow and aunt to 'The Modern Antæus,' the hero of the story of the same name published in the fall of 1901." This may or may not settle the question of the authorship of that much talked of book of which well over a quarter of a million of copies have been sold.

HENRYK IBSEN celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday on March 20. Fifty-three years ago Ibsen, then an unknown pharmacist, went to Christiania to offer his first play "Catiline" for publication. No one would have it. At last one of his friends scraped together enough money to have the play printed; but not a copy was sold. One day, hungrier than usual, Ibsen and his friend put the "remainder" of the edition of 250 copies on a handcart and sold it to a grocer for wrapping paper. The play had however attracted the attention of Ole Bull, who made Ibsen stage manager of the Bergen Theatre. Later he became stage manager of the Christiania Theatre. In 1864 he left Norway disgusted because it would not assist Denmark in its hopeless struggle against Prussia and Austria. Never in easy circumstances before his self-imposed exile, after that he actually suffered at times for want of food. The tide turned in his favor in 1866, when he published "Brand" of which 1250 copies were sold within a month. In 1879 his reputation spread beyond the Scandinavian countries with the publication of "A Doll's House" and since then his works have never wanted for readers, admirers and detractors.

BUSINESS NOTES.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The assets of the Jamieson-Higgins Company were sold on the 10th inst., the Western News Company buying most of the books and plates. It is expected that the affairs of the concern will be wound up speedily and that the creditors will receive about 25 per cent. of the amount of their claims.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Samuel Klein, bookseller, has filed a petition in bankruptcy.

EMPORIA, KANSAS.—Joseph Samuels, for seven years with A. C. McClurg & Co., has bought an interest in Miss Plumb's bookstore.

FOND DU LAC, WIS.—W. T. Warwick, of Mankato, Minn., will shortly open a bookstore here. He will continue his Mankato business but will reside in Fond du Lac.

LEOMINSTER, MASS.—Charles Farnsworth has bought W. F. Howe's book store.

MEMPHIS, TENN.—The Kremer Book Company has made an assignment.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—H. G. Campbell denies the report that he is selling out.

NEW YORK CITY.—S. F. McLean & Co., dealers in old and new books will remove before May 1 to 430 Sixth Avenue at Twenty-sixth Street. The removal is made necessary because their old quarters in the Young Men's Christian Association, where they have been for the past nine years, will be taken down to make room for a modern building. In their new quarters McLean & Co. will have almost double the floor and shelf space they had in the old store, and have better light and ventilation.

NEW YORK CITY.—The partnership firm of Doubleday, Page & Company has been transformed into a corporation of the same name. Mr. J. L. Thompson, formerly a member of the firm, is no longer connected with the business. The officers of the new corporation are: Frank N. Doubleday, President; Walter H. Page, Vice-President; Henry W. Lanier, Secretary, and Samuel A. Everitt, Treasurer. Mr. Herbert S. Houston is also a stockholder and director of the company. The business itself undergoes no change in management.

RUSHVILLE, IND.—Mrs. B. A. Irvin has bought the book business of Miss A. L. Walker.

ST. ALBANS, VT.—The bankrupt estate of the St. Albans Book Store has declared a dividend of one hundred cents on the dollar. The settlement of the estate was through the Hon. Silas W. Flinn, as trustee, and is without doubt the first estate that has declared one hundred cents under the new law.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MR. RANDOLPH R. BEAM is now associated with the Scott-Thaw Company, 542 Fifth Avenue, New York.

THE OUTLOOK COMPANY will publish to-day a series of essays by Dr. Lyman Abbott on the subject of death and immortality, entitled "The Other Room."

J. S. OGILVIE PUBLISHING COMPANY will publish at once a novel entitled "Mr. Claghorn's Daughter," by Hilary Trent, a story of the deterioration and development of character.

KIPLING's new volume of poems, which Doubleday, Page & Co. expect to bring out in October, will contain, besides a number of new poems, all the author's important work since "The Seven Seas" volume was published, including "The Recessional" and "The Rowers."

J. M. DENT is making as complete a collection of the letters of Charles Lamb as possible for publication, and will be grateful to collectors in America who will allow him to have transcripts of their possessions made and forwarded. Communications may be addressed to J. M. Dent & Co., 29 and 30 Bedford St., Covent Garden, London.

D. C. HEATH & Co. have in press for immediate issue Santine's "Picciola," edited with notes and vocabulary by Professor O. B. Super, of Dickinson College. The text is written in pure and elegant French, yet so simple that it is suitable for pupils who have had but little practice in reading French. It is a story of perennial interest.

HARPER & BROTHERS announce that General Wallace's novel "Ben Hur" is now going to press with its one hundred and eleventh edition. The statements regarding the number of editions through which a novel has passed convey various shades of meaning, as the total amount depends on the number of books contained in each edition. But in the case of "Ben Hur" the output has included the largest reprints ever ordered by this house, not excepting "Trilby" or "Lady Rose's Daughter."

THE failure of Alexander Denham & Co., of London, is reported. The indebtedness of the concern is said to be between $70,000 and $80,000, and the assets to less than one-third of that amount. The senior Mr. Denham, it will be remembered, died last October at which time his business was considered to be solvent. The failure we understand does not affect the American branch conducted in this city by Edwin A. Denham, at 28 West Thirty-third Street, who was the American agent for the firm.

ANOTHER popular edition of the Works of Charles Dickens is announced. Chapman & Hall and Henry Froude, of the Oxford University Press, the joint publishers of the Oxford India Paper Dickens, are co-operating in the production of a new, complete, and fully illustrated edition, to be known as The Fireside Dickens. There will be twenty-two volumes in all, printed in large type, on good opaque paper, with fairly wide margins, and published at a low price. The first three volumes will be issued at once.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just published Professor James Albert Woodburn's work on "Political Parties and Party Problems in the United States," a sketch of American party history and of the development and operation of party machinery, together with a consideration of certain party problems in their relations to political morality. They have also just brought out the second part of Professor Leo Wiener's "Anthology of Russian Literature from the earliest period to the present time." This volume gives a comprehensive sketch of Russian literature in the nineteenth century.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have made arrangements with Mr. Dent, to bring out early in the fall an edition of the works of Charles Lamb in twelve volumes, with illustrations by C. E. Brock, Miss Winifred Green, Herbert Railton, and reproductions from Hogarth and a number of old prints and portraits. The edition is being prepared under the editorship of William Macdonald who will contribute a biographical and critical essay. The type to be used is of a face found by Mr. Dent in an old Edinburgh printing shop, which in other sizes was used at the time of the first publication of the "Essays."

VALUABLE books have been disappearing for some time from the store of George H. Richmond, at No. 32 West Thirty-third Street, New York. Suspicion fell upon a man on March 25 who gave his name as Thomas Williams, twenty-one years old, of No. 226 Lexington Avenue, New York, and he was arrested. In his possession were found three of the stolen books, of the value of which the man seemed ignorant. Other books had been hidden by Williams behind a picture, probably to be taken away later. The detectives say that they have been looking some time for a man who answers to a description of Williams, and that there have been many complaints of thefts from bookstores.

LEMCKE & BUECHNER, 812 Broadway, New York, have just brought out in the Monographs on Artists series a volume on "Leonardo da Vinci," by Adolf Rosenberg, translated by J. Lohse. The volume contains 128 illustrations and, like its predecessors, is handsomely printed. The author has followed closely the general scheme of the series, namely, while endeavoring to maintain a scientific thoroughness of treatment also to avoid overelaboration of detail which would make the work unintelligible if not distasteful to the general reader; hence the series has interest for the professional artist as well as value for the layman, a combination that is rarely found combined in popular treatises on art.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY will publish early next month a volume of poems by Israel Zangwill, entitled "Blind Children," which, as the title indicates, attempt to teach the actual meaning of human existence; "The Keswick Movement," by Arthur T. Pierson, with an introduction by the Rev. Evan Hopkins the leader of the movement in England which the book describes; "The Pulpit Bible," by Dr. Joseph Parker, which gives the entire text of the Bible with suggestive and illustrative notes; "On the Trail of Moses," by the Rev. Dr. Louis Albert Banks, being thirty-one revival sermons on the incidents in the life of the Hebrew lawgiver; volume iv. of "The Jewish Encyclopædia;" also, "Washington: Its Sights and Insights," being a personally conducted trip to the National Capitol by Mrs. Harriet E. Monroe.

SCOTT-THAW COMPANY, of New York, have made arrangements with The Monadnock Press to handle the publications about to be published by the Press. These will be chiefly reprints of the prose romances and tales that were current in Elizabethan England and from which Shakespeare obtained the plots for many of his comedies and tragedies. The volumes now in hand are: "The Goodly History of the True and Constant Love Between Rhomeo and Julietta," translated by William Painter in 1569; "The History of Hamlet;" "The Shepardsess Felismena, from the 'Diana' of George de Montemayor," translated by Bartholomew Yonge in 1598, from which Shakespeare obtained the plot for "The Two Gentlemen of Verona;" also, "Appolonius & Silla," translated in 1581 by Barnabe Rich, from Clithio's "Heccatomonithi," on which Shakespeare founded the plot for "Twelfth Night." The reprints will be faithful except that the orthography will be modernized, and the arrangement of the text altered by means of a revised punctuation and a new disposition into paragraphs. The editions will be limited to 115 copies printed on paper and 10 copies on real vellum.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish early next month a volume under the suggestive title of "More Money for the Public Schools," in which the author, President Eliot, of Harvard, sums up in a large way the results of public education—its benefits and its shortcomings. The book is said to set forth a definitely constructive plan for producing better results; to explain in detail what most needs to be done for the improvement of our public schools; to urge greatly increased expenditure, and to show how more money could advantageously be spent. It may be expected to contain the matured conclusions of one of our most eminent educational authorities on the large practical needs of the public schools. They will shortly bring out "The Toilers of the Home," by Lillian Pettengill, a frank statement of the experiences of a college girl as a domestic servant, which is now running as a serial in Everybody's Magazine. This is to form one of their series of books which they designate as a "library of achievement," which already includes such books as Booker T. Washington's autobiography, "The Woman Who Toils," and Helen Keller's "Story of My Life."

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just published two stories of more than ordinary interest. The one is entitled "The Pagan at the Shrine," a story of Southern Spain in the time of the Carlist and anti-Jesuit agitation, by Paul Gwynne, who is as familiar with village and town life in Spain as Miss Wilkins, for instance, is with New England village life. In this volume the author brings to his reader's attention all that is typical, racial and characteristic of the Spaniard. It is a true study of the native individual. The description of the conclave at the barber shop where the barber, priest, alcalde and school-master meet to discuss public affairs, exchange racy Spanish proverbs, and squabble in the most amusing and social way is a unique characterization of the Spanish type. The other is George Cram Cook's "Roderick Taliaferro," (pronounced Tulliver,) the hero of which is an unreconstructed Confederate gentleman who after the Civil War throws in his lot with the party of the Mexican Empire, joins the army of Maximilian and after the Emperor's execution barely escapes with his life. The book is full of exciting scenes. They have also just ready "The Canterbury Pilgrims," Percy Mackaye's comedy, already fully described by us; and "Greater Russia, the Continental Empire of the Old World," by Wirt Gerrare, who describes the present conditions and the commercial and industrial development of the great Northern empire, and incidentally, also, the best openings for foreign enterprise and investment.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

THE MANNERINGS

By Alice Brown

This double love story, whose scene is laid at a charming country-house, is the most vital and dramatic work that Miss Brown has yet produced. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

THE LEGATEE

By Alice Prescott Smith

A vivid picture of life in a Wisconsin lumber town and the terrors of a forest fire. The love affair which runs through the story is a singularly attractive one. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S HISTORY OF HOLLAND

By William Elliot Griffis

How a very little country overcame great obstacles and became so influential in the world, told in a vivid and interesting manner, and enlivened by many anecdotes and illustrations. Crown 8vo, $1.50 net. Postpaid $1.64.

THE ENJOYMENT OF ART

By Carleton Noyes

A book setting forth in simple, untechnical fashion, the nature and the meaning of a work of art. It is a book for all lovers of pictures, music and books. Crown 8vo, $1.00 net. Postpaid $1.09.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE COLONIAL GOVERNORS OF RHODE ISLAND, 1729-1775

Edited by Gertrude S. Kimball

These letters, the second volume of which is now ready, cover the period of Rhode Island history from 1729 to 1775. Collected from the state archives and elsewhere, they present the official relations of the colony to England, and shed much light on the drift of public opinion and the gossip of international affairs. Volume II. 8vo, $5.00 net, postpaid.

GREAT EPOCHS IN ART HISTORY

By James M. Hoppin

New and Revised Edition

Professor Hoppin has just revised this popular and attractive book in which he treats with keen appreciation and criticism four important periods of art—Italian Religious Painting, Greek Sculpture, French Gothic Architecture, and English Pre-Raphaelitism. With illustrations. Crown 8vo, $1.75 net. Postpaid $1.94.

CHARLES ELIOT, LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

By Charles W. Elliot

New Edition in New Style

This important work is now brought out in a more convenient two-volume form as well as in one volume. It has been accepted as a most unusual and valuable contribution to the new art of landscape architecture as well as an interesting autobiography of a remarkable man. With many illustrations. In I. vol., $3.50 net. Postpaid, $3.79. In II. vols., $4.00 net. Postpaid $4.33.

READY APRIL 15

The Annual
American Catalogue

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, 1900-1902, will be ready April 15, and will include in one alphabet the short-title lists of the books of 1900, 1901 and 1902, giving information of the books recorded by author, title, subject and series. This cumulation is to continue annually until a five-yearly volume of "The American Catalogue" in its new shape is reached. This form of catalogue has been generally accepted as a desirable, practical working tool for the trade, supplementing as it will do, from year to year, the last issue of the five-yearly "American Catalogue," without the need of consulting several alphabets in several volumes.

 THE ANNUAL ENGLISH CATALOGUE, for which we have the American market, will be furnished at $1.50 in cloth, or bound with the ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, in cloth, at $4.50 if ordered and paid for in advance.

Bibliographic Publications.

For all American books as they appear, take THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY; for an hour's glance each month at the important books and magazine papers, take LITERARY NEWS; for library matters take THE LIBRARY JOURNAL; for magazine articles in general, consult THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX; for books in print or issued of late years, see THE AMERICAN AND ANNUAL CATALOGUES, also, the index to the PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL for 1902 and the Index thereto.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY. Established in 1872, with which was incorporated the American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular (established in 1852.) Recognized as the representative of the publishing and bookselling interests in the United States. Contains full weekly record of American publications, with monthly cumulative indexes, etc. Subscription, $3.00 a year, postpaid; to foreign countries, postpaid, $4.00 a year; single numbers, 10 cents. postpaid. Special Numbers: Educational Number, in leatherette, 50 cents; Christmas Number, 25 cents; the numbers containing the three, six and nine months' Cumulated Lists, 25 cents each. Extra copies of the Annual Summary Number, to subscribers only, $1.00.

THE LIBRARY JOURNAL. Official Organ of the American Library Association. Chiefly devoted to library economy and bibliography. Established in 1876. Published monthly. Subscription, $5.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 50 cents. Price to Europe, or other countries in the Union, 20s a year; single numbers, 2s. (LITERARY NEWS is sent free to subscribers of THE LIBRARY JOURNAL.) Teachers may be interested in the "School Number" published in the spring of each year.

GENERAL INDEX TO THE LIBRARY JOURNAL, vols. 1-22, 1876-1897. Arranged to serve as an index to succeeding volumes or for other sources of professional information. 4<sup>o</sup>, in sheets, or paper binding, $2.50; A. L. A. half leather, $3.00.

LITERARY NEWS. A Monthly Journal of Current Literature. Contains the freshest news concerning books and authors; lists of new publications; reviews and critical comments; characteristic extracts; sketches and anecdotes of authors; bibliographical references; prominent topics of the magazines; portraits of authors, and illustrations from the newest books, etc., etc. Subscription, $1.00 a year, postpaid; single numbers, 10 cents.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE of books in print and for sale July 1, 1876, compiled under the direction of F. LEYPOLDT, and its supplements, 1876-84, 1884-90, 1890-95, and 1895-1900, compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER, aims to present all the bibliographical features of the books in the American market, arranged in the first part alphabetically by both authors and titles, and in the second part alphabetically by subjects.

The Catalogue and its supplementary volumes form the only approximately complete guide in existence to the American books of the day, so arranged as to make reference easy from whatever direction the inquiry may come, whether from that of the author, or the title, or the subject. It not only furnishes the desired information about any particular book of which the consulter is in search, but shows what others there are by the same author or on the same subject in which he is interested. To the bookseller, therefore, it is valuable both in filling orders and in stimulating business; to the librarian, in supplying gaps and proportioning his collection; and to all who are practically concerned with books, in furnishing information by a convenient method.

The author-and-title volume of the 1876 volume is out of print. A limited number of the subject volume may be had in half leather binding at $15.

The volumes covering the periods 1876-84 and 1884-90 is also out of print.

—, 1890-95, 4<sup>o</sup>, hf. mor., $15.

—, 1895-1900, 4<sup>o</sup>, hf. mor., $15.

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, containing yearly the monthly lists in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, cumulated, giving in one alphabet, by author, title, and subject, information of the books issued during the years covered by the latest volume. It also contains a directory of publishers with full street addresses. The current volume covering 1900 to 1902, inclusive. 8vo, cloth, net, $3.00.

THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL. Contains: The latest catalogues of upwards of 200 American publishers, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume. These lists, all bound in one volume arranged alphabetically for ready reference, with marginal index, guiding the finger at once to the right letter, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books. Large 8vo, cloth, without index, net, $2.00; with index, 2 v., 8<sup>o</sup>, net, $7.00.

INDEX TO THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL, 1902, contains an index, by author, title and subject catchword to the lists of the 246 publishers represented in the Catalogues volume of the PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL for 1902, furnishing by means of 140,000 entries, ready reference to the books of the leading publishers in print July 1, 1902, and to forthcoming books of which they could furnish information in August of that year. 1 v., 8<sup>o</sup>, cl., net $5.00.

THE ANNUAL LITERARY INDEX, including Periodicals, American and English; Essays, Book-Chapters, etc., with Author-Index, Biographies, Necrology and Index to Dates of Principal Events. Edited, with the coöperation of members of the American Library Association and of The Library Journal staff, by W. I. FLETCHER and R. R. BOWKER. 8<sup>o</sup>, cloth, $3.50.

THE AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE. Contains a price-list of all the text-books in use in the United States, arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject. 8vo, leatherette, 50 cents.

THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE [Annual] Giving full titles classified under author and subject in one strict alphabet, with particulars of the size, price, month of publication, and name of publisher of the books issued in Great Britain and Ireland, in the calendar year, being a continuation of the "London" and "British" Catalogues. [London: Sampson Low, Marston & Co.] 8vo, cloth, net, $1.50. THE ENGLISH CATALOGUE and THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE bound in one volume, cloth, $4.50.

PUBLICATIONS OF SOCIETIES: a provisional list of the publications of American scientific, literary, and other societies from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Schedules over 100 societies issuing publications, and gives title-entries of all their publications, as far as data could be obtained from the societies and from libraries. 4<sup>o</sup>, paper, $2.50; cloth, $3.00.

STATE PUBLICATIONS: a provisional list of the official publications of the several States of the United States from their organization. Compiled under the editorial direction of R. R. BOWKER. Pt. 1: New England States—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut. Pt. 2: Middle Atlantic and Central States—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. 4<sup>o</sup>. (For complete work, $5.00.)

THE PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING: a handbook of practical hints for the apprentice and bookseller. By A. GROWOLL, managing editor of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and author of "A Bookseller's Library," "Book-trade Bibliography in the United States in the XIXth Century," etc. Pts. 1 and 2. 8<sup>o</sup>, bds., each, $2.00. (Concluding part in preparation.)

A Word to the Bookseller

*NOTE.—It isn't our business to teach you your business.
But we may be able to give you some pointers on selling our books. From time to time we shall make an attempt at it, on this page.*

IF there's anything about which the public is more eager, than about its own kind on parade we don't know what it is.

Every woman, from the millionaire's wife to the laundress—and pretty nearly every man—is keenly concerned in the doings of that circle which calls itself Society, with a big S. As a great, universal, ten-ringed public exhibition, it has got Barnum & Bailey's reduced to the proportions of a Punch and Judy show.

It is with Society (the big S kind) that David Graham Phillip's new novel, "Golden Fleece," deals; and it deals straight from the shoulder. It isn't a satire, it's a picture—a series of pictures—in fact, a panorama. Here is real American high life; good, bad, and unendurable. Gibson, Christy, and all the rest of the social cartoonists put together, haven't given us such a gallery of types.

The story is simple enough. An impecunious British Earl comes to America seeking, quite frankly, a rich wife. Quite as frankly, society accepts him and his mission. Of his adventures in New York, Chicago, Boston and Washington the plot is built. Perhaps because of its very simplicity it has the prime quality of fiction. It is interesting all the time.

"Golden Fleece" is a book you can sell to any woman who will read one page of it. We've kept the best thing till the last. It's a story that nobody will be sorry or ashamed to have enjoyed. There isn't a line in it that isn't as clean and honest as it is bright and clever. (Out April 6.)

P. S.—The editors of the Saturday Evening Post, which published "Golden Fleece" serially, tell us that never has any other piece of fiction brought them so many letters of comment.
